Artists for Utility Box Wraps

The City of Lacey (City) is working on a public art project to celebrate the area's rich history, promote community identity, and create an enjoyable and welcoming community experience. This project will transform utility control boxes throughout the City into visually fun and appealing art that reflects the City's history, culture, and diversity.

The City is seeking artists of all ages and abilities to create designs for these utility boxes wraps.

Designs will include important individuals and organizations that have positively impacted the greater community, see Table A. For more detailed information on those being recognized see: <https://laceyparks.org/utility-wrap-profiles/>.
